

4 Things to expect from the upcoming CPA Evolution 2024

NASBA and AICPA call for CPA Evolution 2024 to meet the future Industry needs.

Curious to know the know-how aspects, watch the 5 major trends below.

Trend #2 Core + Discipline Model

To enable a deeper engagement and mastery of the subjects like business analysis & reporting, tax compliance & planning, and Information systems & Controls. This model helps to bring in a closer career focus and specialization.

Trend #3 Updated CPA exam Structure

With the new model in place, the CPA exam structure is also expected to change. The exam includes three main core sections - AUD, FAR & REG and instead of BEC there are three elective core disciplines - BAR, ISC and TCP. The 16-hour examination format remains the same.

Trend #4 Learning Gaps Closed

AICPA Trends report suggested that hiring for accountants fell by 29% as the practice and learning in accounting is wide. More firms are looking for candidates with broad accounting knowledge with specialized skills in cybersecurity, information systems & controls, data analytics and IT areas.
